

For Immediate Release:

June 18, 2012

Contact:
Dave Melancon
david.a.melancon@usace.army.mil

Angela May Afghanistan Engineer District-South's Bulldog of the Week

KANDAHAR AIRFIELD, Afghanistan — Bulldogs can be very intelligent and determined creatures. Angela May, administrative support specialist in the South District's personnel office, is cited as a "steady, intelligent, determined and confident individual," which is why she was selected as this week's Bulldog of the Week.

"She is an example of an invaluable employee," said Navy Cmdr. Halleck Mohler, South District adjutant. "She routinely completes any and all tasks with the utmost of professionalism and commitment to excellence. No task is too hard for she has the internal fortitude to tackle anything to its completion."

Mohler said May has picked up tasks in addition to her mail handling and housing assignment manager duties during other employees' absences with "absolutely no degradation of services" and is learning and helping out with every other personnel division office function.

"Angela sets high standards for herself and for others to emulate," said Air Force Col. Benjamin Wham, South District commander. "She has never hesitated to learn about or take on new tasks. We're very fortunate to have employees like her in the South District."

May deployed to the South District from the New Orleans District.

- 30 -

USACE's Afghanistan Engineer District-South provides design and construction services throughout southern Afghanistan to support the International Security Assistance Force and U.S. Forces-Afghanistan. The work is carried out in Regional Commands South, Southwest and West with the goal of achieving counterinsurgency effects and bolstering the Afghan Government's services to its people.

You can find more news and features about the district on our homepage. You can follow us on Facebook and find interesting photos about the district on our Flickr page. Also visit <http://www.aed.usace.army.mil/AES/tas-bulldog.asp> for the latest Bulldog of the Week.

Angela May, administrative support specialist in the South District's personnel office, is the District's Bulldog of the Week for June 18-23. (USACE photo)